FROM DOWNUNDER. . .

Australians are heavy on tennis, having perfected the powergame invented by Americans. And Australia is associated with kangaroos, an expression out of a World War II song, "Waltzing Matilda," and a breezy, competitive view of life.

What is also fascinating about Australians is their slang. It's as direct as American phrases coined in the early 20th century and becoming more familiar.

Freezout Road Still Causing Controversy

Controversy about the road which had a gate placed across it by Alcoa near the plant at Rockdale continues as commissioners heard a letter from a law firm about the road at a regular meeting Monday morning.

The gate had been placed across the road during a strike by IGC workers, to provide an access road for construction workers at the Alcoa site. Residents of the area protested to commissioners at earlier meetings and commissiones had declared the road a public road, maintained with county equipment.

The letter was from Ellett, Camp, and Glaser, attorneys, and stated that the gate had been removed; however, the firm on behalf of Alcoa advised the court that removal of the gate constitutes no admission that the road across which it was placed is a public road.

The letter also stated that any future maintenance performed by the county on the road shall be done with out permission of Alcoa and should be considered as done under protest by it.

In other business, commissioners in answer to a petition presented by residents in the Buckholts school district, called an election April 5 for converting the Buckholts Rural High School District into an independent school district. The petition was signed by 47 persons.

Commissioners also opened bids for supplies for the tax assessor--collector's office and awarded low bid to the Rockdale Reporter for $1,068.85.

SCHOLARSHIP BOARD--Members of the Alcoa Foundation College Scholarship Selection Board met in rockdale to review applications and college entrance examination (SAT) scores of the 49 applicants. Winners of the two $4,000, four-year scholarships willbe announced later this month, along with two alternates. Dr. Walter Vincent, superinetndent of the Rockdale Independent School District, seated at the right, is chairman of the local selection board. Show here are, sated from left, C.C. Sims of Thorndale; Buddy Dulin of Cameron; Miss Cathy Zalman, counselor of Rockdale High; Dr. Vincent; standing from left, A. P. Kleinschmidt of Lexington; A. K. McCown of Thrall; Jack Faulds of Caldwel; and Roger Hashem of Milano. Board members not present were Charlie Martin of Milano and J.B. Scrivner of Taylor.

Green Thumb Program Faces Fund Cutoff

The Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb Advisory Board met in special session recently in Austin to discuss the future of the program.

Funding for the program which has 285 older-workers in 27 counties, including Milam, Randall, Briscoe, including Milam, was scheduled to expire June 30, 1975.

Last session, Congress had passed and President Ford signed a bill providing $12 million earmarked for National Contractors of programs for low-income elderly.

Recently, President Ford has asked Congress to withdraw the amount appropriated. In effect, this would have ended the program. However, the House Appropriations Sub-committee on Labor-HEW rejected the Administrations request. This will permit funding of the Green Thumb program an additional three months. The Administration now says that this money will be used for the "orderly phase-out" of the Green Thumb Program.

Unless favorable action is taken by Congress to establish the Green Thumb program as an on-going national program, community service activities in rural Texas will cease at the end of the three month period.

This means community improvement and development projects will cease, that community service such as outreach to help the aged, shut-ins, and handicapped will stop. That help through teachers aides and library aides will end. Also, work on parks and recreational areas will be terminated.

Davis Named President Of Citizens Bank

John H. Davis of Cameron is the new president of the Citizens National Bank of Cameron, following his election Tuesday by bank directors.

Davis, a native of Milam County, previously served the bank as executive vice-president. He has been employed by the bank for many years having begun his employment in 1938. Goodhue W. Smith was elected chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

In other action by the board, William Kelm was re-elected vice-president and was promoted to senior trust officer. Ernest Moore was named trust officer and was promoted to vice-president. Ladis Marek Jr. was re-elected assistant vice-president and was also appointed trust officer.

Mary Frances Shipp was promoted to assistant vice-president. Charles Hundle was elected auditor and Harold Moore was elected cashier. Other officers who served last year were elected to serve in the same capacities in which they had been serving.

CofC Banquet To Host Humorist

Thursday, March 20 is the date set for the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet and tickets are now on sale. Featured speaker for this year will be Joe Griffith.

Griffith, who has appeared in over 100 TV commercials, is a humorist and a full-time entertainer now.

Decorations to coincide with Cameron's new slogan, "Gateway to Country Sunshine," are being handmade by the Ladies Committee of the Chamber under the direction of Mrs. Bob Foster.

The program will include brief remarks by outgoing president L.W. Stroup Jr and 1975 president William Kelm.

Filling out this year's executive committee of the Chamber are: Bill McCutchen, first vice-president, and LaVert McKinney, second vice-president.

As a special treat, musical selections will be presented by the "Joy Singers," a group of local high school ladies. Rounding out the program will be the awarding for the last time of the McCullin Civic Award for 1974, by Jack Chubb, 1973 winner.

Tickets are on sale through March 18 for the banquet from any of the following ticket committee: Roselee and Linky Mondrik, Lovic Baugh, Gene Lumpkin, Douglas Buck, Sid Duderstadt, Jimmy Bledsoe, John Homerstad, Larry Schiller, Ernest Moore, Johnny Fuller, Billy Peck, Tommy Chamberlain, Gene Smitherman, and Forrest Sapp, chairman.

Griffith, a native of Ennis and a graduate of East Texas State University, is now president of the ex-students association. After college he served in Naval Air Intelligence until he won a Navy talent show and from there entertained servicemen all over the world.

After the Navy he became a stock broker and was successful in this career until a series of circumstances caused himto switch to show business. His investment seminars led to a live TV show where he interviewed top business leaders and personalities such as Jim Nabors and Milton Berle.

After an award winning performance in the Dallas Press Club's satirical review, "The Gridiron Show," he was seen by a talent agent who got him into television commercials. Since that day he's appeared in over 100 commercials and has worked with people like golfer Jack Nicklaus and Academy Award winner Sal Mineo.

His experiences as an entertainer and businessman provide the foundation for an interesting and humorous program.

The annual banquet will be held at the Methodist Fellowship Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 20.

Trustees To Eye Building Program

Cameron school trustees will call a special meeting to discuss the school's building program, it was voted at a regular meeting Monday night.

It was noted that the high school science complex proposed for building was actually ahead of the field house on the priority list drawn up some time ago, although the field house was built first.

Supt. Buddy Dulin said the budget would have about $60,000 left at the end of the year and this, along with loans, could start construction on the new science rooms. It was decided to advertise for bids rather than build it like the field house has been built. Costs of the new field house have outstripped first estimates.

In other business, trustees approved textbooks adopted by a textbook committee. Discussion came up on the possibility of going back to the "old math" instead of the new math which is weak in math fundamentals. Dulin said the trend nowdays is gradually swinging back to a fundamental approach to math.

A board of equalization was appointed, including Erwin Stoker, Albert Epperson, and Mrs. Jo Ann Pagach.

Places were drawn for candidates on the school board election ballot as follows: Bill Hornung, Bob Terry, Dana Kestenbaum, Lee Roy Doskocil, Joe Walzel, Keith Raine, James Beasley, Rufus Floyd, Charles Kunz, and Roselee Mondrik.

Board turned down a suggestion by the Milam-Burleson Special Services co-op to have a common school calendar. This would have made school start a week earlier than in the current school calendar used by Cameron schools. Dulin will present a 1975-76 calendar at the next school board meeting.

Theo Aschenbeck, Cameron school tax collector, showed that some $350,000 has been collected in taxes, with $32,000 on the delinquent roll. He said most of this was in property taxes, some $7,000 is for personal property taxes. Unpaid taxes are now delinquent and the school's tax law firm will send out letters to delinquent tax payers.

Aschenbeck noted that there are more delinquent taxes this year than at anytime in the past.

Principals were on hand for review of teacher contracts and Yoe High Principal Jack Chubb discussed ways to take care of a girls PE program along with other sports in an athletic program for girls.

He said teachers could be hired for high school and junior high to teach girls PE and coach basketball, volleyball, and track. The present girl's coach could teach health and driver education.

Chubb also said the new quarter system will present problems in scheduling for the high school but in some ways will be good for the students.

The board then went into executive session fo discuss teacher's contracts.

Buckholts Sets School Election, Town Meeting

An election will be held on April 5 at Buckholts to decide if the present rural high school district will be changed to an independent school district.

The election was called by county commissioners at the request of residents.

The election will be held at the Buckholts High School with the polls open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

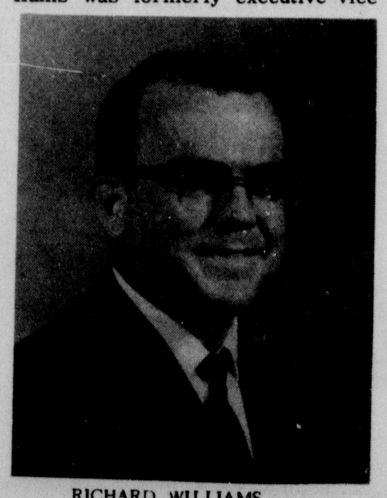
On Monday, March 17, at 8 p.m. there will be a town meeting in the high school gym to discuss the incorporation and answer any questions residents might have.

Folk Fete Dates

Date for this year's Folk Fete has been set for June 6, 7, and 8, according to Mrs. Betty Reineke, president of the Fete board.

Richard Williams To Head First National Bank

Richard Williams was elected president of the First National Bank here at a directors meeting Tuesday. Williams was formerly executive vice president, a post he held for a number of years.



RICHARD WILLIAMS

Lester Williams, who has served as president of the bank, was named chairman of the board.

Other official changes included Mrs. Janice Turner elected vice president, from the position of assistant vice president and Mrs. Janice Klecka was elected assistant cashier.

At the annual stockholders meeting the following were elected directors for the coming year: L. A. Dusek, Donald L. Glass, Lester Williams, Mrs. Lester Williams and Richard Williams.

Glass was elected to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of C. E. Akers, who had served as a director for 25 years. A resolution of appreciation and gratitude to Akers was recorded.

Glass is widely known throughout Texas and the Southwest in the floral business and has been actively operating that firm since 1946.

City Of Earthmovers...

Earth-moving equipment is beginning to shape the three-block area which is destined for a park-exhibition status in the next year or so.

Streets, curbing, leveled locations in the area in the vicinity between Milam Courthouse and City Hall will be built.

It is an extension of the now familiar mall downtown, a welcome addition to that area which was first included in urban redesign, but lost to inflation a number of years ago. Supplementary funding allows the additional project's completion.

A few buildings will remain in the area, undergoing rehab now to bring them up to standard. Others will be pulled down because they are beyond reasonable standard to modernize.

This area will someday see an exhibition hall and possibly a civic center-type auditorium adjacent to a city hall roughed out in planning stages adjacent to the old jail-new museum.

The possibilities also include a site for Folk Fete to come to a central location in future years, livestock show arena, and additional offstreet parking for the downtown area.

Cameron is now a landmark in downtown civic planning, which is pushing new projects into parks, such as the refurbished City Park decorated with new curbing, landscaping, colors, and playground equipment to come.

Indeed, the earthmovers are adding space to downtown Cameron, beauty where blight resided, future where only a wornout past lay useless.

Cameron is an earthmover.

What Others Say ...

Auto Pollution Edsel?

The auto emission-standard picture was acknowledged this week to have grown murkier.

The Environmental Protection Agency said it was concerned about the mists of sulfuric acid being spewed out of catalytic converters on most new-model cars. The converters were designed to keep the quantities of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide emitted by auto exhausts to levels mandated by the Clean Air Act of 1970. The EPA is using its own authority to delay by a year the next stage of emission-standard tightening, in order to come up with sulfuric acid mist standards.

A delay of as much as five years in the emission-standard schedule is in prospect--involving a tangle of issues such as the fate of the catalytic converter, President Ford's bargain with automakers to swap gains in fuel economy for a freeze on pollution requirements, and congressional interest in taxing autos by engine size or weight.

Groups other than the EPA, such as the National Academy of Sciences, have voiced their concern over the sulfuric acid mist health hazard. Congress will shortly be taking up the subject of the country's air quality, and could well decide it is prudent to accept a one-year or longer delay.

The sulfuric acid mist wrinkle in the air-cleanup program does not discredit the effort to date. It does, as the Clear Air Act's critics argue, point up how experimental such programs can be, demanding costly, new devices like converters which may have to be scrapped.

But ambient air quality in America has been substantially improved. Industry itself was shirking the task and needed clean-air timetables and targets set for it. The cataytic converter may be flawed, but it was a solution industry came up with for meeting standards. If the government is partly responsible for the converter in having pressed for results before other technologies were ready, then it may be fair to say that government, like industry, is entitled to its Edsels.

Senate Gets Speeding Fine Bill

House members have sent the Senate a bill limiting penalties for speeding up to 70 miles per hour to a maximum $25 fine with no insurance rate penalties.

Representatives also approved extension of the 55 mph speed limit, but did not provide the necessary 100 votes to place it into immediate effect. The present limit, passed more than a year ago in conformity with federal energy-saving mandates, expires at the end of this month.

At issue is whether Texas again goes along with the federally-imposed limit and retains eligibility for allocation of $303 million in federal highway funds this year.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he fears "there is a very definite possibility" the fine ceiling for speeds over-55 and up-to-70 (the old limit) may endanger federal funds for the highways.

Briscoe said he would prefer a simple extension of the 55 mph speed bill as an energy saver, as well as a life saver and a highway aid saver.

However, the Governor stopped short of saying he would veto the fine bill, which provides for maximum penalties, including court costs, of $25 without charge to a driver's violation record.

Representatives hope to force the Senate to go along with the fine limitation by withholding 100 votes from the 55 mph bill until both measures are cleared by the upper chamber.

REGISTRATION PLAN PASSED

All Texas voters will have to re-register between October 1 and January 31 under a bill passed by the Senate last week.

The relatively non-controversial bill sets up a new computer-policed permanent voter registration system for the state.

Once all voters are signed up again, local registrars every two years would send out new certificates automatically. To help weed out ineligibles, the certificates will be mailed in non-forwardable envelopes so they will be returned if the voter has moved.

Up to 30 per cent on current voter rolls are believed to be ineligible, mainly by reason of having moved, according to Secretary of State Mark White Jr.

A computerized file will be maintained in the secretary of state's office to help prevent this situation from occurring again under the new law and local registrars will be compensated for removal of ineligible names as well as for addition of valid new voters to rolls.

READABILITY DESIRED

Governor Briscoe and Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie are backing legislation to make health and accident insurance policies "perfectly clear" to the insured.

The bill would require presentation to each policy holder of a simplified explanation of its terms.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Ronald Coleman of El Paso, also seeks to establish minimum standards for health insurance coverage, including a basic level of compensation and uniform application from one policyholder to another.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court held Texas Railroad Commission is without authority to set aside natural gas contracts between Lo-Vaca Gathering Company and Texas Utilities Fuel Company and others.

LETTERS

Dear Mr. Luecke,

Thank you for giving my Journalism class such an interesting and informative tour through the Cameron Herald plant.

The student enjoyed seeing first hand how a newspaper is compiled. They were as much impressed as I with your sophisticated and computerized process.

Thank you for your time and generosity.

Dear Sir:

I am seeking information on a "lost" branch of our family and hop e that you or some of your readers may be able to help me.

Charles Hanson, son of David A. (Gus) Hanson, lived in Rockdale in 1903. As a young man he was employed as an engineer or road-master for the Texas & Pacific Railroad, but was injured when a boiler blew up in his face. He was last heard from in the 1930s, when he and a daughter visited my grandparents in Harrison County.

Does anyone recall this family? Could anyone tell me whether or not descendants of Charles Hanson still live in your area, or where they might have gone? ANY assistance that anyone could give me will be very sincerely appreciated. I shall, of course, be happy to reimburse any correspondents for their postage.

Cordially,

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As I understand it, there's a tremendous interest in home gardens all across the country as more and more people realize they're going to have to take the battle against the high cost of food into their own hands.

Naturally there's going to be some disappointments as beginners start to discover whose side the weather's on and find out there's no way to get peas for example to come up already shelled and sealed inside a plastic bag. Also, when the insects start attacking those tender shoots a lot of city people with backyard gardens may restudy their opposition to chemical insecticides. Up to now, some city people have taken the position that it's all right to use an insecticide on roaches and ants in your home but if you use anything out in the fields it's likely to upset the balance of nature. Personally, I've never understood the phrase, "balance of nature," Anybody who has ever tried to farm or ranch ten years in a row knows there's nothing more unbalanced than nature, unless it's the market at harvest time, or Congress when it's called on to act in a hurry.

But back to gardening. I've been reading articles in the newspapers and magazines pointing out how small a plot of ground it takes to feed one person. A piece of ground 10 feet by 20 feet when properly tended will grow an enormous amount of food, if you've got a strong back, a garden hose, and enough money to pay the water bill. Years ago a man named Thoreau proved you can feed yourself on just a tiny plot of land out in the woods and not work over 30 or 40 hours a year, provided you go into town every other night and have supper with Mr. Emerson. You don't get biscuits and gravey out of a garden.

But the man who has reduced the amount of land it takes to make a living on down to the absolute minimum with the absolute smallest amount of work is an Arab sheik I read about. He does it on a piece of ground about 3 feet square. His oil well produces 40,000 barrels a day, which at $12 a barrel comes to $480,000 a day, which, even with inflation and all, is enough to get by on, provided you can get the U. S. to give you a cash rebate on all the military equipment you buy over here.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Retirees May Exclude Disability

Taxpayers who retire on disability before they reach mandatory retirement age may now exclude from their incom up to $100 a week in disability payments, received in lieu of wages, as tax free sick pay.

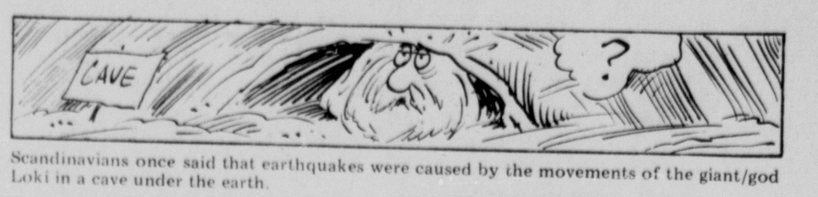
In addition, Howard C. Longley, acting IRS district director for southern Texas, said that some retirees may also be eligible for refunds on taxes paid in previous years when the total disability payment was considered as taxable income.

He noted that retirees may claim the sick pay exclusion until they reach the age when retirement i s required by their employer. For example, some employers set mandatory retirement at age 65.

The disability payments to retirees must be made under an accident or health insurance plan and must be either paid by the employer or attributable to contributions by him to such plan which were not includible in the employee's gross income, Longley said.

Reitrees who haven't already done so may file amended returns (Forms 1040X), or claims for refund (Form 843) to claim the sick pay exclusion. Generally, however, claims for refund must be filed within three years from the due date of the return for the year in which a refund of taxes is being sought.

The IRS official said that, for example, claims for calendar year 1971 must be filed on or before April 15, 1975. He urged retirees having questions about the sick pay exclusion to contact their nearest IRS office.



Scandinavians once said that earthquakes were caused by the movements of the giant/god Loki in a cave under the earth.

Six Flags Introduces New Attractions For 1975

Six Flags Over Texas will unveil results of a million dollar attraction and improvement program when the park begins its 1975 season March 15.

A new thrill ride, called the Rotoriculous, will be introduced prior to the summer tourist season, as will an antique airplane ride designed for children.

All the new features are themed around the "inventions" of Prof. Cyrus Cosmo, a costume character developed exculsively for Six Flags Over Texas.

Each evening Prof. Cosmo is joined by a group of his costumed friends in The Incredible Electric Light Brigade Parade. Cosmo clambers aboard his brilliantly lighted Cosmobile to lead such marchers as Capt. Dynamo, King Electro, the Electrophant, and Father Light through the streets of Six Flags. A brass band heads the parade lineup which features electrically powered, animated floats, illuminated with hundreds of blinking lights.

Cosmo, described by his creators as a "part-time inventor, part-time illusionist, and full-time showman," is also the star of the Cyrus Cosmo Wonder Show. He displays his wit and talent with baffling illusions, starting with a trick in which he makes himself appear from "nowhere." And as the show progresses strange things happen at Cosmo's command, including passing neon tubes through his assistant's body.

The magic show will be staged in Six Flags' Music Mill Theater on days when no name entertainers are appearing there.

Six Flags' younger guests can take a flight aboard a tiny antique biplane when they visit the C. Cosmo Flying Machne Co. It's a new feature in the park's Confederate section.

Early in the summer Six Flags will open the new Rotoriculous ride. The 13-speed thrill ride, housed in a specially-designed, octogonal building features an elaborate "light and sound experience."

Projections on multiple screens combine with bright, flashing lights and strange sound effects to give the ride a mind-boggling outer space aura.

The new attraction, unique in the theme park world, is currently under construction in the Good Times Square area.

Six Flags General Manager Dan Howells said, "A lot of imagination has been put into the new characters, shows, and rides, and we think our guests will find the results exciting.

Egg Producers To Hold Clinic

Some 125 commercial egg producers will gather at College Stateion at the Ramada Inn March 26 to get a current review of the egg industry.

The occasion is the 20th annual Te..a s Commercial Egg Clinic, according to Dr. Fred Thornberry, poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The clinic will begin at 9 a.m.

Current topics to be discussed will include the feed grain situation, manure management for fly and odor control, the effect of management programs on layer performance, a new look at replacement scheduling, recycling laying flocks, energy and amino acid levels in laying rations, the Texas egg law and the egg research and consumer information act, and insuring the laying flock.

Rayburn Home To Be Museum

BONHAM

Former colleagues, friends, and constituents of long - time congressional leader Sam Rayburn will gather at the "home place" just west of Bonham, to officially dedicate and open the Sam Rayburn House Museum at 11 a.m., April 1, announced Mrs. Wesley B. Blankenship, chairman of the Texas Historical Commission.

The museum which will present exhibits studying the life and work of the former Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives is the first historic house museum operated by the Texas Historical Commission.

The dedication ceremony Wright Patman from the First Congressional District as principal speaker. Other friends and former associates of Sam Rayburn will offer remarks in tribute of the late lawmaker.

The Commission also will unveil two official historical markers during the public ceremony. One will honor the statesmanship of Sam Rayburn; the other will designate the Sam Rayburn House as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark.

The Commission has restored the home and surrounding grounds and outbuildings to the way they were in 1961, the year of Speaker Rayburn's death. The house was originally constructed in 1916.

Over 2,600 Rayburn family items ranging from a bottle of window cleaner to a four - poster bed and Mr. Sam's saddle have been returned to the site for exhibit just as he left them.

Today, we may live in an "affluent" society, where many people are wealthy, but the word originally meant "flowing to," from the Latin ad (to) and fleure (flowing).

Purple Martins Ideal Tenants

Purple martins are ideal tenants who pay their rent in an unusual way -- each bird eats thousands of mosquitos.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials say it is not too late to prepare for these helpful birds although, ideally, martin houses should be put up or cleaned in the fall.

The birds are presently winging their way back from South America to look for honeymoon cottages. Some already may have arrived. Their requirements are rigid, so any old bird house won't do.

If you already have a martin house, give it a good cleaning with soap and water, and make sure it is securely fastended to the pole.

If you don't have a martin house and would like one, they are available commercially, or you can build one yourself. Most libraries have house plans, and the completed structure should cost less than $10.

Although some bird lovers have had good success attracting martins with hollowed, long-necked gourds and plastic milk cartons, a house with at least six compartments for nests seems to be the best bet.

Each compartment should be at least 6x6x6 inches, and the openings should be round and not more than 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

The house should be placed in an open area at least 15 feet above the ground. Martins like lots of wide, open spaces free from obstructions such as trees and buildings, and many times failure to attract martins can be attributed to the tight conditions around the house.

Once the nesting season is over, the house should be taken down and cleaned to prevent its use by sparrows or starlings.

In the fall the house should be put back up with the openings closed with tape. The tape should be taken off around the first of March.

Avoid using pesticides in the area since poisoned bugs will poison the martins.

LAS VEGAS

Competition between the two hotel giants of Las Vagas is causing repercussions that are being felt in Wall Street. The two hotels are the Hilton, opened in 1969, and the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer Grand, built in 1973 with the financial help from the sale of some Metro Studio's backlots. The Hilton is losing money but the Grand did a roaring business last year.

ANKARA

Turkey is threatening to embark on drastic new defense measures, including building its own nuclear weapons and scaling down its NATO commitment, following the United States embargo on arms deliveries. In a series of interviews, government leaders have disclosed plans to extend nuclear research beyond mere power stations to tactical weapons.

LONDON

The future of a two square mile, oyster-shped illand known to Europeans oa Acean Island, and to the islanders as Banaba, is causing concern to Britain. The tiny speck in the Pacific, about 2,500 miles east of Australia, is important because of rich phosphate deposits, which are being expolited by Britain.
exploited by Britain. The island wants independence.

RIO DE JANEIRO

Police storm troopers are scouring Brazil's wold northeast in pursuit of the "death syndicate," a gang of hired assassins in the pay of local politicians, notables, and landowners. The syndicate is held responsible for hundreds of deaths over the years.

MONT BLANC

The world's longest road runnel under Europe's highest mountain is 10 years old this year and its eagle-eyed security staff can boast a unique achievement--more than seven million vehicles have passed through the mountain without a single fatal accident. The engineering miralle has exceeded the most optimistic prophicies of its builders--within a decade traffic through the tunnel has increased by 70 percent.

NEW YORK

Maruading bears and floating icebergs are two of them more dramatic dangers faced by oil crews in the Arctic where boredom and isolation are almost constant companions. One death has been counted when a polar bear attacked and killed a young oil worker, and rifles have been issued as part of standard equipment for workers at oil sites.

county music stations in the south which banned Loretta Lynn's controversial hit, "The Pill" have given the song the publicity it needed to make it a hit and now the stations are having to play it anywya under public pressure, Miss Lynn says. But one small station near her own small town of Hurricane Mills, Tenn., has continued to ban the song about contraception and adultery and that ban has stung her more than others.

LONDON

A season of John Osborne plays at the Greenwich Theatre outside London has left a question mark on the chart of the 45-year-old playwright's career. It is nearly 20 years since "Look Back in Ange," hailed as the voice of rebellious youth, made theatrical history and earned him the now-hackneyed lable of "The Original Angry Young Man."

Yoe Pops Belton 8-1 In Opener

The Cameron Yoemen showed their ability to sling the wood in their district opener against Belton Monday at the Mary Hardin Baylor Stadium.

The Yoemen unleashed two four run innings inthe third and seventh to down Belton and drop their season record to 1-2 and mark the record for the Yoemen.

The Yoemen went to the batter box sling wood that mounted a third inning after a single by Gene Kopriva. Randy Sapp followed with a powerful swing that connected to center field which was bobbled in a park play. This allowed two Yoemen to be placed on the bags.

Joey Mondrik stepped in with the wood to slam a line drive that allowed him passage to second base and scoring Kopriva and Sapp.

Bruce Zarosky took a base on balls and Jeff Smitherman advanced to first base on an error. Harlow couldn't find a grip on the ball and Zarosky scrambled to third base. Ricky Kelly unloaded against Belton with a drive to second base and putting away Zarosky and Smitherman to before the Yoe campaign ended.

With a switch on the mound the Yoemenmarked their second scoring attack in the seventh inning. Joey Mondrik received a free base when he took a base on balls.

Gene Kopriva bought his way to first base with a hard hit single followed with a single to first by Jeff Smitherman. Gary Hornung brought the score around as he advanced to third base after a sacrifice by Joe Smitherman.

Hornung died on third base when Sweeny toed the rubber to strike out Donald Hanel to retire the Yoemen in the seventh inning.

The Yoemen hardballers will play in the Hearne Tournament this weekend with their opening game Friday against A&M Consolidated at 7 p.m.

Sports Spotlight

By Forrest Guess

Well, after 20 years the Yoe girls will have an opportunity to prove their equality in basketball and track Next year the girls will compete on a junior varisty level and work their way into UIL competition the following year

The girls have a chance to prove that they too deserve a chance to compete in athletic events. The school system will hire a girls coach that will take the basketball, track, and volleyball.

I feel it is a mark in the right direction for the girls and the program will soon find that the girls will make their impression in district. I think that the girls will flock to the areans to give new light and interest in Yoe athletics.

Along the subject of girls athletics the girls are presently involved in a race for the zone championship. According to Pat Short the three team zone could very easy end up in a three way tie. The Yoe girls will be in action this week to end up their regular season play.

In the hardball world Coach John Forsythe's Yoemen popped an impressive 8-1 win over Belton.

Talking with Coach Forsythe he had the following comments. "I thought we looked real good and I was extremely pleased. The Belton eam was real tough and their pic-her is one of the best in their district."

I asked Coach Forysthe how tough the district was going to be, he said, "Very tough, we are looking at Elgin, Westlake, and Cameron to be the leaders. But we also always find Rosebud-Lott real tought."

According to Coach Forsythe the Yoemen had several players that did an outstanding job against the Big Red Tigers. Gary Hornung had a real fine defensive game while Joey Mondrik had a real good night in the batters box. Ricky Kelley and Jeff Smitherman also wee named as outstanding players in the season opener.

Forsythe also said, "We appreciate Mr. Lincoln Mondrik for the work he has done to refinish our field. Mr. Mondrik did the work on the field for n compensation and the team is highly indebted to his work and interest in Yoe High."

Rosebud-Lott Hands Yoe Match Loss

The girls volleyballers split wins with Rosebud-Lott here last Friday night. The Yoe junior varsity girls sunk the R-Lott girls in the two game match.

Rosebud - Lott was easy picking for the junior varsity girls as they displayed a 15-3 and 15-10 match win. Molly Story went to the service line to sting R-Lott with 13 points.

In the varsity game the girls never recovered from a tough serving R-L team. In the first game the Cougars spiked their way into a game point 7-15.

In the second game Yoe tried to fight back with service points of Teresa Pittman and Evelyn Pittman who placed 6 each. The effort fell short and Yoe suffered a district loss, 14-16.

The O. J. Thomas girls volleyballers handed Rockdale 3 losses and allowed them only one win in action here last Thursday night.

In the first match the Cameron OJT 7th B team was downed by Rockdale in a best 2 out of 3 match. Cameron won the first game 15-4, and then Rockdale swept the nets for a 11-15 and a 4-15 win.

In the battle between the 7th grade A of OJT and Rockdale, Cameron toed the service line with Barbara Toliver lacing the net for 12 service points. Yoe took the match 15-5 and 15-8.

It took the 8th grade B team a 3 game match to claim their victory over Rockdale B. Rockdale took the first game in a 15-3 game then OJT turned Delia Reyes to fix the service line with 13 points to take the second and third games with little difficulty, 15-9 and 15-6.

In the 8th grade section the A team didn't waste time in downing the Rockdale effort with 15-12 and an easy 15-3 win for the match point. Rhodessa Turners had 14 points to lead the winning effort of OJT.

The OJT volleyball team will be in action this Friday night aganst Belton at 5p.m. at the OJT gym. The matches are free to the public.

Globetrotters To Perform At Waco

The champion comedians of the hardwoods--the zany and completely unpredictable Harlem Globetrotters--return to Waco Saturday after having missed their Central Texas date the past two seasons.

Coliseum officials expect 6,000 to 8,000 fans to be on hand to watch Geese Ausbie, Mel Davis, Marquis Haynes, and other Globetrotters work their basketball wizadry.

The show begins at 8 p.m. and tickets may be purchased at the door. In addition to the basketball game. there will be the always exciting pre-game "Sweet Georgia Brown" warm up and several variety acts at half-time.

Yoe High To Offer Girls Sports

After an executive board meeting of the Cameron Independent School Board of Trustees it was announced Tuesday morning that Yoe High would offer girls basketball, track, and volleyball in their 1975-76 cirriculum.

Superintendent of schools, Buddy Dulin announced that "there will be a full scale program for girls for the upcoming school year."

Dulin also stated that there will also be a program for both the high school and junior high. He explained that th girls will not be in competition under UIL supervision for the first year, but would be in the following years.

Dulin added, "We will not be competing for UIL the first year but will compete on the junior varsity level. We will seek games with area schools that play junior varsity ball."

After the formal announcement, Athletic Director Ed Cauley stated that he was extremely pleased and that his office would assist in seeking qualified personnel to fill the positions.

Coach Cauley stated, "We are going to get after it and we want to have a very strong program."

The board decided to hire a full time coach for high school and a full time coach and physical ed teacher for junior high. The girls games will be scheduled for Monday and Thursday night for the first year.

Yoe Relays To Feature 'Master Mile'

The 40th running of the Cameron Yoe Relays will take place Saturday, March 15 in Cameron. There will be fifteen teams from the Central Texas area competing this year. The prelims in the field events will begin at 11 a.m. and the running prelims will start at 12 noon.

Between the prelims and the finals, the annual barbecue for coaches and workers will be served by the Yoe Booster Club.

The finals are scheduled to start at 4:30 p.m. Medals will be awarded to the first three place finishers and trophies will be given for the high point individual of the meet, the winning 440 relay team, mile relay team, and the team champion of the relays.

For the second year, the MASTER MILE will be featured during the finals. The event is open to all women and men over 39 years of age that are willing to run a mile.

The purpose of this event is to encourage running for fitness and health reasons and to encourage people to run no matter what one's ability.

The objective of the race is not to see who can run the fastest mile, but who can run the distance nearest to the predicted time the contestant has selected.

Plaques will be awarded to the first three place winners.

Booster Club To Present 'First Gear'

The Yoemen Booster Club will present "First Gear" in concert Thursday night, March 13 in Yoe gym at 7:30 p.m.

The popular singing group, based in Orlando, Florida, travels the entire country performing concerts and school assembly programs. They will perform assemblies Tuesday at both Yoe High and O. J. Thomas Jr. High schools, and return for the concert Thursday night.

Price of admission will be $2 in advance and $2.50 at the door. Tickets will go on sale at all schools Tuesday.

Proceeds will be used to benefit Yoe High School athletic teams.

Helen Huffman will coach both junior high and high school tennis in the 75-76 season.

Use Care When Fertilizing

Due to short fertilizer supplies and resulting high prices, homeowners are urged to use fertilizer wisely for lawn maintenance.

"With the world food crisis that has resulted in part from short fertilizer supplies, we can all do our part in conserving scarce plant nutrients," contends Dr. Richard Duble, turf specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Although less than three-and-a-half percent of the fertilizer consumed in the areas, judicious use of plant nutrients is important.

What can the homeowner do to conserve fertilizer?

"First of all, a knowledge of fertilizer requirements for your lawns is important. St. Augustine, centipede, and zoysia grasses all require less nitrogen fertilizer than other grasses. Bermuda requires three or four applications of fertilizer per year to maintain a complete turf cover while the other grasses only require spring and fall applications."

Spring and fall fertilizer applications should be at the rate of two pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. For a fertilizer containing 10 percent nitrogen, 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet would be needed to meet this requirment. Duble suggests using organic or slow-releasing fertilizers when available as these are formulated especially for lawn use.

For a rapid greening response during summer months, a soluable fertilizer material should be used at a rate of one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

The Texas A&M University specialist recommends fertilizing in the spring and fall to encourage root development of the grass without excessive leaf growth.

"Deep root systems make better use of available soil nutrients and moisture and help grasses survive summer and winter stress periods.

"Increasing the mowing height of the lawn in early summer also helps promote deeper root development. St. Augustine grass lawns should be mowed at least one-half inch higher in the summer, or at a height of two-to two-and-a-half inches. Higher mowing heights also reduce the frequency of mowing."

Duble advises against removing grass clippings after mowing. "Clippings contain plant nutrients that can be recycled into the lawn when they are left to decompose. Removing these clipping may double the lawn's fertilizer requirement. Clippings will not significantly contribute to thatch build-up when lawns are mowed regularly."

4th Graders Produce Safety Film

Fourth grade students in classes at Ada Henderson School here have produced a colorful filmstrip for the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety in Austin.

The film, called "The Safest Show on Earth," was produced by the children with the materials made available to the public school system by the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety to help teach pedestrian, bicycle, and passenger safety.

The student producers created illustrations which were reproduced on film and returned to the school with a pre-recorded sound track. Each classroom participating in the program produces its own show. The filmstrip and recording become the property of the school for future use.

A preview of the films was shown at the school's open house on March 6.

Teachers of the classes are Mrs. Patsy Matula, Mrs. Diane Anderson, and Miss Patsy Beck.

Officials at the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety will select artwork used in the program for use in television public service announcements to be released this spring.

It's a marshmallow world—at least, through the eyes of children—a wonderful world of discovery. Each day brings new happiness; exploring exciting sights and sounds. Their trust and belief make every day a fascinating adventure.

But what happens when they grow up? The staggering pressures of today's modern world take the beauty and excitement out of life. Crises, crime and the struggle of earning a living all filter out the joy and spotlight the stress. The days are long.

But with all its problems, life is still incredibly beautiful. When we forget that it is, we need to be reminded that life has a meaning . . . we need to take on the faith of a child.

Come to that constant source of inspiration and truth and renew your strength in the Church.

County Agent's Notes

Final Acreages Still In Doubt

The only way to tell how much grain surghum and cotton acreage will be planted this year is to wait until all of the seed is in the ground.

Grain sorghum producers with uncontracted crops are uneasy about grain sorghym prices as the future market has dipped below the $3.50 per cwt. level. This is prompting some to consider planting a little more cotton.

What the final acreage balance will be will be determined by weather during grain sorghum planting season, market outlook over the next few weeks, and the emergency crop price support legislation now pending.

Grain sorghum planting is well underway in the county. Farmers were planting with overcoats on early last week and most land was working well. The planting moisture was usually quite adequate.

Miloguard was in short supply and farmers were feverishly hunting supplies. Herbacides are essential to grain sorghum production as farm labor is almost impossible to obtain.

4-H News

By Kenneth Waites

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo came to a close last Sunday. Highlighting the show was the sale of the Grand Champion Steer for $50,000. None of the Cameron 4-H'ers made quite that much money, but nonetheless, they did real well.

The results of the Milam County 4-H'ers are as follows: Brangus Heifer Scramble Show, 3rd, John Caffey, Thorndale; Brangus Heifers 1st, 5th, and 7th, Wynona Scroggins, Thorndale, 2nd Rhonda Scroggins, Thorndale, and 7th John Caffey, Thorndale.

ASCS

Effective April 1, 1975 interest rates on U. S. Department of Agriculture Price Support Commodity Loans and Storage Facility and Drying Equipment loans will be decreased. The decrease, from 9.375 to 6.125 percent per annum, reflects a decrease to the Commodity Credit Corporation in the Cost of money that is borrows.

The decreased rate of interest will apply to outstanding loans, for which applications have been received on or after October 1, 1974 and to new loans disbursed on and after April 1, 1975. The adjestment of the interest rate on outstanding loans is in accordance with the policy announced last October 1, 1974.

Cooperation Vital For Cotton Growers, Ginners

EL PASO

"Every man to himself" in this time of the bleak cotton picture would be disastrous to the entire cotton industry, especially as far as producers and ginners are concerned. Instead, close cooperation is essential.

That's the contention of a cotton ginning and mechanization specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, speaking at the Western Cotton Producers Conference here Mar. 5.

"Cotton is in the doldrums right now as low market demands have cause a severe drop in prices," pointed out Dr. Calvin B. Parnell. "Farmers are planning to reduce plantings considerably this year, possibly by as much as one-third from 1974 acreage. That, in turn, will put pressure on gins and cause a number of them to shut down, at least for this year."

The specialist expectex about 10 percent fewer gins to be operating in Texas this year. Cotton production is estimated at about three million bales.

"But the cotton picture is not all bleak," reassured the Texas A&M Univeristy specialsit. "With the national policy of decreased dependence on foreign oil, the competitive position of cotton fibers with synthetic fiber should improve.

"That's why farmers and ginners must work together to keep gins open during the coming season," emphasized Parnell. "The cost of transporting seed cotton from the farm to a gin some distance away could make it prohibitive to grow cotton. These costs can only be kept to a minimum if community gins remain in business. It's a two-way street."

Without a cotton gin in the community, many farmers will not have the option to grow cotton when the price is such that they can make a good profit, noted the specialist. They will not produce cotton if they have to travel over 40 miles to a gin. Thus, when a gin goes out of business, the ability to produce cotton at a profit in that community is limited.

In addition to reduced cotton supplies, gins are also faced with complying with certain safety standards, air pollution regulations, bale weight penalties, rising energy costs, and more stringent wage and hour laws. Better management, maintenance, and engineering will be vital for reducing idle or down time in gins.

"Producers need to be award of these problems and need to support community gins, especially in years when the cotton picture is no so bright, as is the case now," contended Parnell. "Producer support can mean the difference in whether or not these gins stay in business."

Extension Asked For Cotton Loan

WACO

Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka has asked the Commodity Credit Corporation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to extend the loan period for cotton to prevent a glut on the market when this year's crop is harvested.

Chaloupka made the request in a telegram to the CCC Advisory Board which is meeting this week in Washington, D.C. He also sent a similar message to Clayton Yeutter, president of CCC.

The head of the state's largest farm organization said approximately 1.6 million bales of the 1974 crop have been placed in the CCC loan program.

"Farm Bureau cotton-producer members would like the opportunity to work that cotton onto the market and not be forced to compete with CCC inventories," Chaloupka said. He indicated that Texas cotton producers are hopeful of an upward turn in demand during 1975.

Loans for the 1974 crop are for a ten-month period, as stipulated by law. However, the CCC may, by puclic announcement, extend the time for repayment of the loan, or carry the loans in a past-due status.

"Even with the current depressed market situation, there are large numbers of producers in Texas who will continue to produce cotton because of their limited economic or environmental situation," Chaloupka said.

USDA Looks At Situation

There's enough land and raw materials to greatly increase the world's food output, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service in a comprehensive analysis of the world food situation.

Much of the potential must be realized in the developing countries, however, if they are to have adequate food supplies. This will hinge on modifying certain policies, in developing as well as developed countries, that have led to the great imbalance between food production and consumption in the rich and poor countries of the world.

Issues needing immediate attention are farm level prices relative to international prices, the optimum amount of grain reserves necessary for world security and reasofble price stability, objectives of food aid program,s and the problem of adequate fertilizer supplies in developing countries.

The ERS study examines these issues and demonstrates how developments over the past two decades prior to 1972 have made them so important.

Also included in the study are projections of 1985 of world food supply and demand, a discussion of resource availiability for producing food and the income distribution factors that affect demand for food, and a report on the World Food Conference held recently in Rome.

To obtain a copy of "The World Food Situation and Prospects for 1985", write to the Economic Research Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Workshop Set For Feed Quality

Feed industry personnel have an opportunity to receive intensive training in the detection of inferior quality feed ingredients at an upcoming workshop at Texas A&M University.

A Feed Microscopy and Feed Quality Workshop Mar. 17-19 is designed to help purchasing agents, nutritionists, mill managers, and quality control personnel do a better job in finding low quality feeds that are a major factor in periodic performance problems.

Spring Planting Underway . . . March 17 Important Date . . . Census Forms Still Needed.

Texas generally enters the 1975 planting season with one of its best moisture supplies in years. There are exceptions of course, but good amounts of sub-soil moisture are reported over most of Texas.

And while farmers in the northern reaches of the state shiver from cold temperatures, planters are rolling in fields in South and Central Texas.

Grain sorghum planting for the state is already about 10 per cent complete which is well ahead of last year. Planting of sorghum has been reported as far north as the central Blacklands. Rapid progress will be seen in the coming weeks as temperatures begin to rise.

Cotton planting is underway in South Texas and will soon pick up momentum in other parts of the state in the coming weeks. Indications as of Jan. 1 project a 23 per cent cut in acreages for Texas this year.

Corn planting is now about 10 per cent complete, and is also well ahead of a year ago. Rice seeding is in progress along the Upper Gulf Coast.

Meanwhile, wheat continues to make good growth on the High and Low Plains. Livestock have been moved off fields where a grain crop is expected. Prospects at this time are described as excellent.

Peach trees have been blooming from Central Texas south. Pecan trees are budding in most southern areas. Citrus harvest is virtually complete. Vegetable harvest is underway in the Valley and Winter Garden areas.

All in all, farmers are either busy planting, or preparing to plant for the 1975 season.

WHILE ALL THIS ACTIVITY is going on, farmers are also waiting--as are others--for March 17. That's the date for the March 1 planting intentions report which should provide a good insight into the anticipated acreages for major crops this year.

That report will be read more closely than ever because of renewed interest in food and fiber production.

CONDITION OF LIVESTOCK, particularly in the eastern half of the state, is poor. This is due to malnutrition as well as an increase in internal parasites. Low cattle prices are also causing many livestock producers to follow less than normal animal husbandry practices.

HALF AND HALF. That's about the situation regarding the 1974 agriculture census. About half the forms have been returned; about half have yet to be returned.

Officials of the Census Bureau are urging farmers to complete the forms as soon as possible and return them. Farm owners are required to answer the questions which apply to their particular operation.

Census officials again emphasize the returns will be treated in strictest confidence. No other government agency will have access to the report. Individual reports will be compiled into county, state and national totals.

Farmers who have difficulty in answering any question should contact the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office with which they do business. ASCS is the "answer man" for this project.

Information obtained in the census is used for a host of agriculture programs, and is the basis of information on which to project the nation's agriculture production as well as other important data on farms and ranches.

OF THE state's 900 cotton gins, about 90 to 100 are not expected to be operating this season due to projected cuts in cotton acres. This does not mean those gins which do not open this year are going out of business permanently, however.

Not as many gins are expected to be idle on the High Plains this year since cotton acres probably won't be cut as much in that area as other sections of the state.

A reduction of 23 per cent in cotton acres is forecast for Texas this season. This figure is based on Jan. 1 intentions. Weather and improvements in the cotton price picture can yet change the final figure, even though cotton planting is now underway in the southern parts of the state. Planting there is off to a slow start because of the weather. However, projections now are that perhaps less than 50 per cent of the acreage to cotton in the Valley last year will be planted this season.

SALES of cattle, calves, sheep and goats in Texas during January were 28 per cent below a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

However, sales for hogs continued at the same pace of a year ago.

There were 482,000 cattle and calves marketed through auctions during January, a decline of 28 per cent from a year ago. Sheep sales totaled 52,000 compared with 78,000 a year ago. Goat sales were 27 per cent below a year ago.

The Texas Animal Health Commission reports only a third as many cattle and calves were shipped out of Texas during January of this year as there were a year ago.

BROILER production in Texas as of the middle of February was down seven per cent from a year ago, but shows an increase of 12 per cent from the previous week.

Two-thirds of the Texas' sorghum crop is used in cattle feeding. Thus, a cut of a million head in cattle on feed would have some effect on total usage of sorghum.

Cow-calf operators can expect little relief from their depressed problems until an upsurge in cattle feeding materializes.
